

The background of the image is a lush floral arrangement. In the foreground and middle ground, there are numerous white chrysanthemums with many small petals, some showing a slight yellow center. Interspersed among the white flowers are several bright red poinsettias with large, pointed leaves. The flowers are set against a clear, vibrant blue sky. The text is overlaid on this background, centered horizontally and spanning most of the vertical space.

Joshua 24:07 And when they cried unto the LORD, he put darkness between you and the Egyptians, and brought the sea upon them, and covered them; and your eyes have seen what I have done in Egypt: and ye dwelt in the wilderness a long season.
