

The image features two vibrant orange butterflies with black markings on their wings, resting on a light-colored, textured rock. The background is softly blurred, showing green foliage. Overlaid on the image is a white, serif text block that reads: "2nd Kings 19:28 Because thy rage against me and thy tumult is come up into mine ears, therefore I will put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest." The text is centered and spans across the width of the image.
