

Psalm 89:18 For the LORD is our defence; and the Holy One of Israel is our king.

A close-up photograph of a purple orchid flower. The flower is the central focus, with its large, veined petals in shades of purple and magenta. The center of the flower shows the intricate structure of the reproductive parts, including a yellowish-brown anther. The background is dark and out of focus, showing other parts of the orchid plant. Overlaid on the upper portion of the flower is white, bold text that reads: "Psalm 89:18 For the LORD is our defence; and the Holy One of Israel is our king."
