

Luke 06:41 And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

A vibrant garden scene featuring lush green foliage. In the foreground, a branch with small, reddish-pink buds is visible. Two white butterflies with blue markings on their wings are seen in flight. In the background, a bright orange flower is partially visible among the leaves. The overall atmosphere is bright and natural.