

Genesis 35:21 And Israel journeyed, and spread his tent beyond the tower of Edar.

A close-up photograph of several ranunculus flowers. The central focus is a large, fully bloomed flower with many layers of petals in shades of orange and yellow. To its right, there is a smaller, partially open flower with pink and purple petals. In the foreground, another flower is in bloom, showing a mix of orange, yellow, and pink. The background is filled with green, feathery foliage and dark, slender leaves, possibly from a pine tree, which are slightly out of focus.
