

The background of the image is a close-up, high-angle shot of a steep, rocky cliff. The rock is light-colored, possibly limestone or sandstone, and shows significant fracturing and layering. A small waterfall is visible on the right side of the cliff, cascading down a dark, wet rock face. The overall scene is rugged and natural.

1st Samuel 31:12 All the valiant men arose, and went all night, and took the body of Saul and the bodies of his sons from the wall of Bethshan, and came to Jabesh, and burnt them there.