

A close-up photograph of several purple flowers, likely petunias, with green leaves visible in the background. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, showing their characteristic five-petaled structure and vibrant purple color. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the petals.

Malachi 04:02 But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.