

A close-up photograph of several vibrant red flowers, likely tulips, with green stems and leaves visible in the background. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some showing the delicate structure of the petals and stamens.

Matthew 18:08 Wherefore if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into everlasting fire.