

Matthew 18:15 Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother.

A photograph of a waterfall cascading down a dark, textured rock face into a pool of water at the bottom. The water is white as it falls and splashes into the pool, which is a dark greenish-blue color. The rock face is rugged and uneven, with various shades of brown, tan, and black. The lighting is dramatic, with the bright spray of the waterfall contrasting against the dark rock.
