

A lush display of various pink and red flowers, likely geraniums, in a nursery or greenhouse. The flowers are arranged in rows, with some in the foreground being out of focus and others in the middle ground being sharp. The background shows more plants and the structure of the greenhouse.

Genesis 29:14 And Laban said to him, Surely thou art my bone and my flesh. And he abode with him the space of a month.