

A close-up photograph of a field of lavender flowers. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some showing vibrant purple hues and others appearing as buds. The background is a soft, out-of-focus expanse of more lavender plants, creating a sense of depth and tranquility. The lighting is natural, highlighting the delicate texture of the petals and the slender green stems.

Matthew 16:26 For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?
