

A close-up photograph of a yellow rose with white text overlaid. The rose is the central focus, with its petals showing a gradient from pale yellow to a deeper, almost white color. The background is a soft, out-of-focus blue and purple. The text is in a white, serif font, centered over the upper half of the rose.

Amos 03:04 Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing?
