

A scenic view of a beach with waves crashing onto the shore. The water is a deep blue-green, and the sand is a light tan color. The waves are breaking in a rhythmic pattern, creating white foam. The sky is a clear, pale blue.

Luke 09:57 And it came to pass, that, as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.
