

A close-up photograph of a garden scene. The foreground is filled with several bright pink daisy-like flowers with numerous thin petals and dark blue centers. Interspersed among them are some deep purple flowers, possibly pansies or violas, with ruffled petals. The background is a dense thicket of green foliage, including various leaf shapes and textures. The lighting is soft and natural, highlighting the colors of the flowers.

1st Kings 07:04 And there were windows in three rows, and light
was against light in three ranks.