

A close-up photograph of a cluster of pink azalea flowers. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some fully open and others as buds. The petals are a vibrant pink color, and the stamens are visible in the center of the open flowers. Green leaves are interspersed among the flowers, providing a natural background. The lighting is soft, highlighting the delicate texture of the petals.

Deuteronomy 01:02 There are eleven days' journey from Horeb
by the way of mount Seir unto Kadeshbarnea.