

A close-up photograph of a vibrant pink rose in full bloom, with its petals showing delicate textures and some water droplets. The background is dark and blurred, featuring other roses and green foliage. Overlaid on the rose is a white text block containing a biblical verse.

Psalms 09:06 O thou enemy, destructions are come to a perpetual end: and thou hast destroyed cities; their memorial is perished with them.