

A close-up photograph of a garden bed filled with pansies. The foreground is dominated by a dense cluster of vibrant purple pansies with dark centers. To the right and slightly behind, there is a cluster of bright yellow pansies, some with dark brown or black markings on their petals. The background shows more purple pansies, creating a colorful and textured scene. The text is overlaid in the upper left quadrant in a white, serif font.

Job 31:04 Doth not he see my ways,
and count all my steps?