

Psalms 119:13 With my lips have I declared all the judgments of thy mouth.

A close-up photograph of a hairy caterpillar on sandy soil with dry leaves and twigs. The caterpillar is dark and very hairy, positioned in the lower center of the frame. The background is a mix of light-colored sand, small rocks, and scattered dry, brown leaves and twigs. The lighting is bright, creating sharp shadows.