

A close-up photograph of a sunflower with a bee on its center. The sunflower has bright yellow petals and a brown, textured center. A small, fuzzy bee is perched on the center of the flower. The background is slightly blurred, showing more of the sunflower and some green leaves. Overlaid on the image is white text in a serif font.

Duke 19:48 And could not find what they might do: for all the people were very attentive to hear him.
