

A close-up photograph of a wooden beam being split by a wedge. The wedge is a dark, rounded object positioned at the top center, driving into the wood. The wood is being split into two halves, with a large pile of dark, fibrous wood shavings on the left side. The right side shows the remaining wood, which is light brown and has a rough, splintered texture. The background is a blurred wooden surface.

1st Corinthians 12:19 And if they were all one member, where were the body?