

A photograph of a stream with a large section of ice. The ice has a complex, crystalline pattern of thin, needle-like structures. A small, light-colored bird is perched on a rock in the water, partially obscured by the ice. The water is a pale, milky blue color. The overall scene is serene and natural.

2nd Corinthians 09:11 Being enriched in every thing to all bountifulness, which causeth
through us thanksgiving to God.