

A close-up photograph of a garden. The foreground is dominated by several large, bright red flowers with multiple petals, possibly a type of geranium or pelargonium. These flowers are set against a backdrop of dark brown, almost black, foliage that has a glossy, waxy texture. Interspersed among the red flowers and dark foliage are smaller, bright orange and yellow flowers. The background is filled with various green plants, including some with fine, needle-like leaves. The overall scene is lush and colorful, with a strong contrast between the red and orange flowers and the dark brown foliage.

blood himself shall slay the murderer: when he meeteth him,
he shall slay him.
