

Ezekiel 33:05 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood shall be upon him. But he that taketh warning shall deliver his soul.

The background of the image features several clusters of bright red flowers, likely from a Hibiscus species, with numerous small, pointed petals. The flowers are set against a backdrop of large, dark green, glossy leaves. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the petals and the sheen of the leaves.
